"MISSIONARIES" ASSAILED BY LINK

"You are right, Ellwal," shouted a man in the crowd.

"Sure kela!" responded McCandless. "He has degraded the manhood of the Hawaiians, when he made that statement before the committee. It is detrimental to the Hawaiian race."

"Don't give up the lands that you applied for. If the Republican Governor and the Board of Land Commissioners want to give you other lands instead of the ones you asked for, don't listen to them. Stick to what you want until they grant your request. If they don't do as they ought to, then take them into the courts."

Lands for Immigrants.

"The Republican Governor and the land board are reserving the government lands for the newcomers (immigrants). I want to call your attention to the fact that the newcomers, outside of the Asiatics, are eligible to own homesteads as soon as they have declared their intention to become citizens of the United States, immediately upon their arrival here in Hawaii."

"The Republican administration under a Republican Governor wants to give the public lands to the missionaries, in preference to the kamae and kupas of the soil. The Democratic party wants the immigration of Europeans stopped; but the Republicans want them to come and drive the kupas of the land from the lands which are rightly theirs."

Christianity.

"Christianity is an important factor in this world. I want to see honest, true and sincere Christians, and not the hypocrites. I believe in Christianity, myself. I have not pledged myself, nor am I a member of any Christian church, but I firmly believe in true and clean Christianity. That's what I want."

"During the discovery by Columbus of the United States of America, some 500 years ago, the Indians were practically living there undisturbed. They were given lands by the government, which prevented the outsiders from coming there to take them away. Today they are living on the lands, well satisfied."

"In 1820 the missionaries came here. They lived and ate together with the Hawaiians, whose hospitality is well known throughout the world. They were then living peacefully with the Hawaiians."

Fear, Missionary.

"Today the missionaries, their children's children and grand-children, are controlling in Hawaii. Governor Fear is one of them. He predominates over you and over the lands, which your good, tender-hearted and loving forefathers once owned. Although his forefathers were treated kindly by the Hawaiians, Fear is not paying any attention to you Hawaiians. This is an ungrateful act on his part."

"Today the Hawaiians are losing their lands in Honolulu, Oahu, where thousands of acres of land are owned by the missionaries, or, rather, their children. The lands in Ewa and that vicinity are owned by the Robinson Estate. The Waipio lands, covering an area of 18,000 acres, are owned by the H. Estate. The poor people have no chance to own lands. It is the same thing all over the Territory today. Go forward and march onward. Don't go backward, but go ahead until you have succeeded in getting what you want."

"THE LAND WILL NOT BE PROSPEROUS IF ONE GRABS THE WHOLE THING FOR HIMSELF. What I want is 'equality.' I want to see everybody prosper."

Annie Keoki Matters.
"Some Republicans are charging me with having grabbed Annie Keoki's lands. My attorney in that case was Achi, while Heen represented Annie. I simply followed the advice of my attorney. I was willing to pay Annie $100 or $200 for her interests. They charged me with stealing and robbing of other's property. If such were the truth, and the whole truth, I certainly would have been tried, convicted and imprisoned. I am still a free man, indicating conclusively that I am not guilty of the offense that they charge me with."

"Probably the police officers were asleep," remarked a man in the crowd.

"I got the lands by working like you who are assembled here today," continued McCandless, after pausing for some time. "I congratulate you all for planting taro on your lands which surround me today. I think you are doing well with your crops. If elected as your Delegate to Congress I will do all I can for you."

Pearl Harbor Treaty.

"By virtue of the treaty made in 1876, Pearl Harbor became the property of the United States of America. The land was acquired for the purpose of fortifications. Kaho claims it was through his influence in Congress that he secured appropriations for that place."

"This is not so. All the Federal appropriations for Hawaii were the work of the United States Senators and Congressmen, who realize the importance of defending and fortifying the coasts of these islands. The appropriations for lighthouses here were not obtained through the work of Kaho. The Republican Delegate to Congress. They were given by the national lawmakers in Congress. There are 92 members of the Senate and 392 in the House of Representatives. The population of the United States is approximately 90,000,000."

Democrats Not Represented.

"All through the Territory there are no Democratic lunas working in plantations. They are practically Republicans. The Republican party, I admit, has plenty of money, but the planters want to squeeze the price and wages of the laborers. In order to get a square deal, I would ask you, one and all, to join the Democratic party, which looks after the interests of the laboring class as well."

McCandless spoke about one hour and twenty minutes. His speech was twice interrupted by dog-fights. Immediately after he commenced to address the audience, three dogs, which represented three political candidates for Delegate to Congress, jumped unexpectedly before McCandless and started to fight.

The aged Hawaiians, who claim to know the mysterious signs of the times, shook their heads in dismay and quietly said that it was a bad sign for McCandless, their nominee for Delegate to Congress. McCandless, however, paid no attention to the dog-fights, which amused the natives and particularly the children, who did not understand what was being said.

The others speakers were T. J. Ryan and Keawehaku. They dwelt upon the immigration and land matters. The meeting was presided over by D. I. Kala, vice-president of the Democratic club of Kalaea. He said that McCandless will poll more votes this time than he did two years ago.

On Thursday night, September 21, the Democrats of Hilo and the delegates from the outside districts who had come to be present at the county convention, held a grand mass meeting in Moohau Park. William H. Heen, the deputy county attorney, presided.

Link McCandless, the regular nominee for Delegate to Congress on the Democratic ticket, was the principal speaker of the night. H. M. Kaniho and Senator Makekai made stirring speeches, which certainly captivated the crowd.

The meeting was enthusiastic. The county band, under the leadership of Captain Carvalho, played. The Hilo quintet club, which occupied a conspicuous place in the Moohau Hall, sang several songs. The Kohala glee club, led by Kaniho, the legislator, the orator, the singer and the organizer of the fusion brigade, during his speech predicted that the
